TABLET

Performance Art / Dance / Video Projections / Surround Sound Design / Architectural Installation / Kinetic Sculpture

tablet... a small block of wood for posting images of our lost loves, a tabletop theatre of gestures, a cake of soap for washing our animals... a tablet for pharming the self, for writing the body as a eulogy for the living...

The post-human gargoyles appear as an embodied architecture of mind tunneling through the urban brain, where ornament, vantage point and drainage combine to become a wet flesh machine gargling the exquisite terror of existence. Caught in a liminal zone between endless striving and a state of exhaustion, we feel the unbearable outside in the depths of our interior, like the gargoyles teetering on a threshold...
